"StreetScape has been very effective in bringing clients to my shop. Every time I run an ad, I get responses from buying customers. It is a beautiful publication and I am pleased to be represented there."
Charlotte Schuman, Finishing Touches By Charlotte

"I just wanted to let you know the response from my ad in the Streetscape Magazine is paying off. My customers cut out the ad and save it. Many people bring the ad with them to show me. It's great to see my investment working. I like the local business stories too. StreetScape is a great launch pad for small business owners and artists."
Lisa Hagemann, Oma's Barn Home & Garden

"My customers and I have enjoyed every issue of StreetScape Magazine as it highlights St. Charles residents, businesses and special events. String Along With Me, a fashion accessory store offering Brighton and custom jewelry designs, is proud to have been an advertiser in this great magazine since it started 4 years ago."
Janice Boschert, String Along With Me

"I have received calls on my ad. The decorating article definitely caught attention...I look forward to my continued marketing efforts with StreetScape Magazine."
Laurie Burns, Laurie's Home Staging & Redesign

Top Reasons to Advertise in StreetScape Magazine

1) Magazine readers are “opted in.”

When consumers read magazines, they are much more engaged.

Studies show that when consumers read magazines they are much less likely to engage with other media or to take part in non-media activities compared to the users of TV, radio or the internet. According to research, when consumers were asked to rate media based on how likely they are to pay attention to the advertising messages, magazines ranked at or near the top of the list. Greater reader engagement is directly linked to increased advertising recall and actions taken.

Findings from Northwestern University’s Magazine Reader Experience Study are available at www.magazine.org/research

2) Magazines supply credibility.

Consumers trust and believe magazines and magazine advertising more than other media.

Simmons Multi-Media Engagement Study shows magazines score higher on being “trustworthy” compared to TV or the Internet. Other independent research confirms that consumers place significant trust in magazine advertising.

3) 4 out of 5 U.S. adults read magazines...and tend to be the higher spenders.

Magazine audience has remained strong over the past five years despite the growth of new media options. Reading a magazine is an intimate, involving experience that fulfills the personal needs and reflects the values of the reader. This is one reason the average reader spends over 43 minutes reading each issue. In addition, heavy magazine readers are likely to be among the highest spenders across most product categories.

4) Publications lend POWER to any Media Plan.

Magazine advertising provides basic support for every other form of advertising, from broadcast to trade shows. In conjunction with other media plans, you gain market share, increased awareness and recall to strengthen your marketing ROI. Several studies show that magazines are the strongest driver of purchase intent and boost other media’s effectiveness.

5) Consumers consider magazine advertising useful and valuable.

Consumers more strongly attribute negative attributes to advertising in broadcast media and the Internet. Print advertising, including magazines, is deemed to intrude the least and is considered the most trustworthy.

6) Magazine advertising moves readers to action, including visiting and searching on the web.

More than half of readers took action or had a more favorable opinion about the advertiser in response to magazine ads, according to Affinity Research.

Numerous studies prove that magazine advertising drives web visits and searches more than other media.
